

Take good to great to exceptional and beyond...

Work with a focused, hand-picked team of highly-skilled and experienced Executive Coaches - professionals matched to your needs and dedicated to guiding you and your team towards the very best version of yourself and your organisation.

Our unique combined strengths

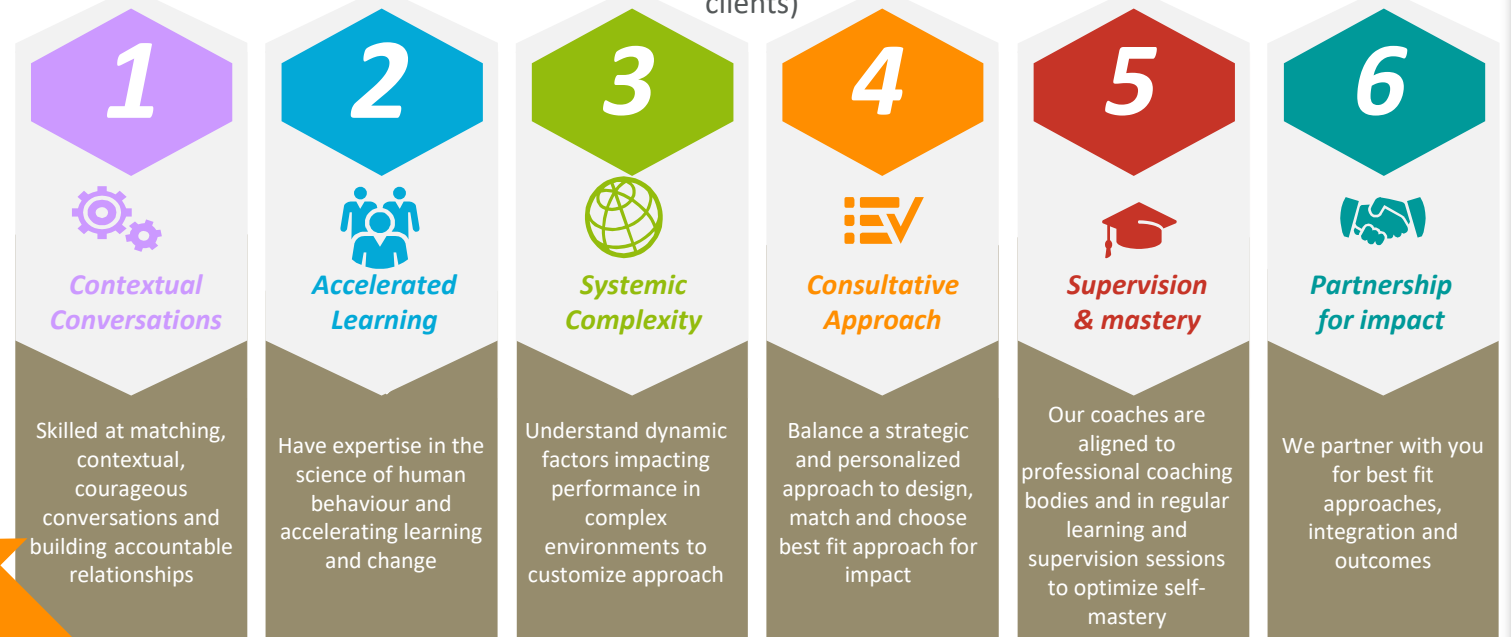

Catalyst has a distinguished track record over more than 20 years in customized small and large scale talent, leadership and change transformation journeys. We have a large network of hand-picked coaches and consultants with a unique mix of skills to best match to your needs. We will ensure effective supervision and project management for impact and results.

BizHQ has years of business and executive coaching experience and helps to identify areas for improvement, and then facilitates change in the business through focusing on attitudes and belief systems, behavior, planning and strategic interventions through coaching, consulting, training, outsourcing and contracting.

Jo Searle has over t decades of experience as Leadership and Business Coach and Coach supervisor. She is Master Coach with IMCSA and COMENSA. She brings depth, compassion and challenge to her work with clients and coaches.

What makes us stand out

We have a proven track record in being long-term trusted partners that add value to business. Our coaches have a systemic understanding of business systems, processes and people to accelerate leadership effectiveness and business results. We are passionate, skilled and committed to driving growth and impact (in ourselves and our clients)

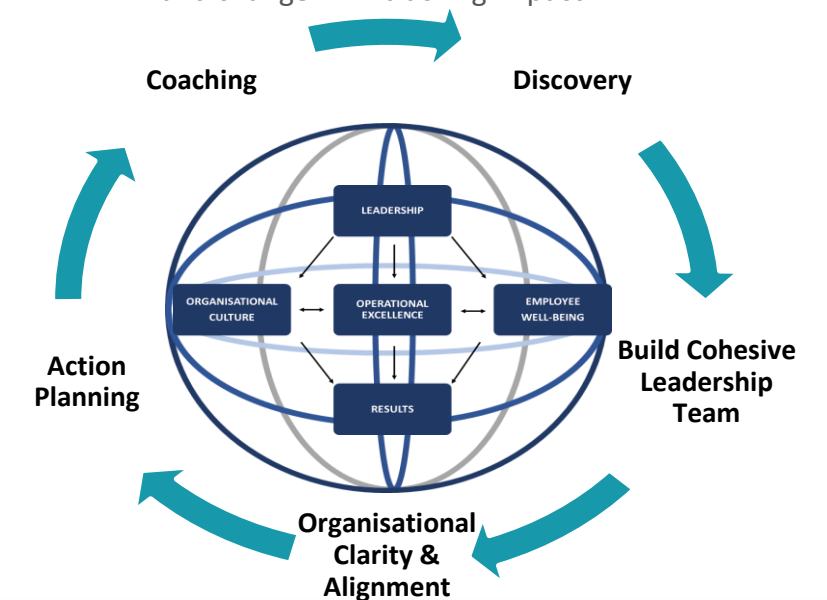

What we offer

We are able to offer a diversity of hand-picked supervised coaches for best match business, leadership and group coaching at various organizational levels. Many of our coaches come with business, consulting and facilitation skills to integrate coaching with business needs and build capacity in coaching as a management skill.

What is our approach - consultative (fusion) coaching

We are able to rapidly assess the dynamics of individual, team and organization systems, processes and relationships to target coaching to the highest impact areas and methods. We bring a strategic approach to our work and provide effective tools for discovering priority needs, matching coaches to coaches, accelerating learning and change AND tracking impact.

“Executives and HR Managers know coaching is the most potent tool for inducing positive personal change, ensuring better-than-average odds of success and making the change stick for the long term.”
